If you do not agree to this License, you are invited to discuss the issue with the Licensor. The Licensor is an independent design studio that thrives by keeping customers satisfied and is open to new ways of providing a better service. The Licensor believes that Fonts with unreasonable restrictions do not ultimately contribute to anyone's satisfaction and tries its best to keep licensing adaptable to as many workflows as possible.

03.   LICENSE

This License allows the Licensee to install the Fonts on unlimited computers belonging to the Licensee. The Licensee is allowed to create graphical designs and products, as long as the letters are not the main selling point of the Licensees product, e. g. house numbers, stamps, craft templates or punched letters.

The Licensee is also allowed to upload the Font(s) on a web server (self-hosted) and embed it into a website using the css @fontface method. This License is not limited to a maximum number of page views, traffic or domains, the Licensee only has to be the owner of the respective domain. Any other method than @font-face is not permitted.

04.   FREE LICENSE / TRIAL VERSION

The Licensee may use a Font freely for its personal use, as long as it does not receive any monetary gain from the use of the Font, and does not use the Font on a publicly available platform such as a website, application, or social media profile, or in relation to a company logo or any public broadcast. Otherwise, the Licensee must purchase the appropriate commercial License, as per its projected use as described below.
